

A Children's Baking Book

Børnenes bagebog

by Katrine Klinken

A Children's Baking Book is intended for children who want to learn to bake. It is a clear and simple book with seventyfive recipes for delicious baked goods, aimed at children and other beginners.

Featuring classics like sourdough rye bread, traditional, quick-bake birthday buns, layer cakes, hamburger buns, pretzels, Danish wreath cakes, Christmas biscuits and recipes with variations so that the same dough can be used for different cakes, A Children's Baking Book also includes a section with new, popular recipes for raspberry slices, cake pops, macaroons, ryebread rolls with chocolate and hazelnuts, and more.

The book features helpful tips as well as clear, step-by-step instructions explaining some of the techniques. Each recipe is clearly marked as easy, intermediate or difficult to make.

Katrine Klinken is a trained chef and domestic science advisor. She is the regular contributor to newspaper Information's food column and to magazine Hjemmet. She is also chairman of the board at Oprør for Maven as well as for the København-Nordsjælland division of The Slow Food-Movement.

Katrine Klinken has written many cook books for children as well as adults, among them Easy Food (Nem mad) , Nothing but Cakes (Lutter lagkage) , It takes a good Sauce (Sovs) , The Children's Kitchen (Børnenes køkken) , The Children's World Kitchen (Børnenes verdenskøkken) , Shellfish (Skaldyr) and most recently Meals Meals Meals (Måltider).
