Anton is totally fed up with his mother. All she does is constantly go on about cheese and spend time kissing and smooching with Pappa from Pappa's Pizza. Now she's even started to sing opera. It really couldn't get any worse. This prompts Anton to run away from home with his best friend Molly and is the start of a wild adventure. On their way, the two adventurers encounter a dancing fishmonger with a cowboy hat and pigtails, a bank manager, who isn't actually a bank manager and a used lama that can't spit, but does have a very gassy stomach. And of course, not forgetting Mum's old friend; the world-famous star and tenor Antonio Gekko, who has a terrible plan.

YOU , ME AND LAMA is the third book about Anton, Mum, Molly, Pappa and the others from the Cheese Shop, which is right next to Pappa's Pizza and opposite Torben's Ladieswear.

The first book

FAITH, HOPE AND GORGONZOLA received the Danish School Librarian's Award for Children's

Book of the Year in 2013 and has been likened to Astrid Lindgren, Bjarne Reuter and Ole Lund

Kirkegaard. In 2014, the second book in the series was published, COOTIES AND BINGOWINGS, which was awarded a five-star rating in the Danish newspaper Ekstra Bladet.

Lars Daneskov (born 1963) is the father of four, a journalist and the author of among other titles the bestselling Far på Færde and Mummy's Got A Baby in Her Tummy from 2012.
